Non-availability of Telephone on Demand

†3128. SHRI ANIL SHARMA: Will the Minister of COMMUNICATIONS be pleased to state:

(a) what is Government's response towards the news-item published under the caption "Fir bhi telephone mang per uplabdh nahin ho sakega" in the Dainik Jagran, dated the 4th July, 2000;

(b) whether Government have formulated any such scheme under which the said problem may be solved;

(c) if so, the details thereof; and

(d) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS (SHRI TAPAN SIKDAR): (a) to (d) the total demand for new telephone connections in the country as envisaged in the Ninth Plan Period was 237 lakh telephones. Out of these 237 lakh new telephones it was envisaged that the DTS (the then DoT) and MTNL will provide 185 lakh telephones and balance 52 lakh to be provided by private sector.

During Mid Term Appraisal of Ninth Plan, it was observed that provision of telephones by private sector was slow and lagging behind. As such it was decided to increase the target of DTS + MTNL to 222.7 lakh and balance by private sector.

During the first three years of the Ninth Year Plan i.e. from 1.4.97 to 31.3.2000, 119.68 lakh new telephone connections have already been provided by DTS and MTNL. During 2000-01 it is proposed to provide additional 57.9 lakh new telephone connections including MTNL. Much higher target is proposed to be taken up during the last year (2001-02) of the Ninth Five Year Plan taking into account the waiting list at the beginning of the fifth year of the Ninth Plan. It would be the utmost endeavor of the department to meet the objectives of providing telephone on demand by 31.3.2002 with whatever contribution that may be provided by the private basic service operators.
